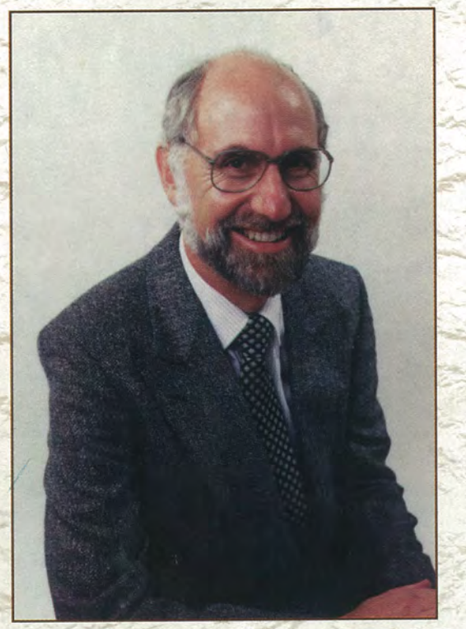
AVONDALE CENTENARY 1897 1997 A TIME OF VISION

AVONDALE COLLEGE LIBRARY

Principal's Page



The Centennial Year has been a valuable one for Avondale. We have been encouraged to consider the accomplishments of many who have contributed to making Avondale what it is, and the faith and values that inspired them. Heritage Week was a high point in that regard.

We have also tried to capture the fact that Avondale's impact goes far beyond its boundaries. For example, looking at Avondale's impact on the South Pacific was both exciting and humbling. It is interesting to speculate where Avondale might make the most impact in the future. Our church membership trends indicate that the "mission field" might now be found in Australia and New Zealand. And that is indeed a challenge.

As I write we are anticipating Homecoming: our alumni weekend. The interest of past students in Avondale and what it represents is one of our greatest strengths. While the modern student may not now fully appreciate the nostalgia of such an occasion I am confident that in years to come the vision they have gained at College will influence positively the church and community in which they work.

Dr Norman Carlsen

Born: 30th May, 1947

In: Wyalkatchem, Western Australia.

Married: Lynette Grace Gilbert
16th December, 1973.

Norm has been a wonderful person to deal with. He always hads a positive view on life which is reflected in his teaching. A man of small stature but a heart which is open, kind and gentle.

I have had the pleasure of being in Dr Carlsen's classess and have learnt more than just Programming and Economics, I have become a more rounded person. Thank you for your guidance and support.

Theology Greats

One Two Three Cheese

Avondale in 1997 has been a time for meeting new people and developing friendships. It has been a year full of expectations as the "tertiary education" phase of my life concludes and the "employment phase" draws near. The fun times, the study, the reflection of worship and the people have all helped to build memories that I will cherish forever.

It's more than a neat collection of highly contrasting architecture, from Bethel through Watson and the Audo winding up at Ella Boyd. It's the ever changing population that the buildings contain, it's this amazing conglomeration of personalities and philosophies that assures you that there will always be new activity or thought to experience and discuss, or just a quiet place in which to disappear for a solitary moment or two when you feel like you've experienced it all.

And hey where else can you, in six months, break your neck in a Hawaiian shirt covort around campus in a pale blue 1960's jump-suit without getting arrested, and buy back your girlfriend for $32.50?

Campus Ministries - Visiting

People say that coming to Avondale is a great way to straighten out your life. That when you come here, the good influences will make you a better Christian. The truth is, that when you come to College, you'll find what you want to find. Avondale's got "the good the bad and the ugly". Notice that the good is outnumbered by the bad and the ugly! Some people even may suggest that Avondale is no longer a spiritual place. But I beg to differ. Avondale has something that no other university can provide... its essence.

The essence of Avondale touches the heart of every person that spends time beneath its roof. It spreads throughout every part of our being, and the taste of it will linger longer than any of us can ever imagine. What is this essence? It can be found in the dormitories, in the cafeteria, in the audo, in our lectures. It can be recognised in our friends and the people we mix with. Yes, it can even be found in Chapel and in Church!! But the place you feel it the most is in your heart. You don't feel it all the time, but when you do, there is no greater feeling. It's the feeling of our God.

Participation and enjoyment are the fundamental motivators behind involvement in sport. They include motivation that extends beyond the constraints of competition, beyond being the best and beyond winning accolades. They include friendships, team spirit, satisfaction from improvement, exercise and a productive time out from study. Sport at Avondale College provides all these things.

A Night Out

Early morning, Mooney Beach. The sun is coming over the horizon as we start to gear up for what has become a sacred event for those of us who surf or have surfed while at college. It is known as "the early". It is getting up in the dark, making a mad dash for the nearest beach. Going all out in the surf and then heading back to College to make it to your first class, still with wet hair.

This is one of my favourite memories of College. Surfing with my close mates. I have made friendships in the surf that will last for ever. We have shared the excitement of seeing Cathoe's in a twenty foot swell, the disappointment of walking all the way to Mooney's to find that there was less than half a foot, the exhilaration of scaling down the cliff to Ghosties to surf the perfect reef break, the fear of being caught out by a freak set, the humour of watching as one of our mates goes over the falls. This, to me, is what College is all about; sharing the good and bad times with the people close to me. We share so much together and we will never forget this College experience.

Damien Porter.

ABARC is one of the outdoor activity groups at college. However, what sets it apart from the rest is the variety of activities and the friendships made under the stars or around a camp fire. ABARC has been running for a long time and will continue to do so with the support of staff and students who are adventurous and outgoing.

I have realised why Avondale changed while I was away. It was because the students changed. The campus had not changed and very few of the staff had, yet the atmosphere and personality were very different.

One way to describe it is that the music of College had changed. The students are the changing notes that come together to make the sound of College.

Every year the notes change and make a different piece of music but over time they come together to make up the music book that is Avondale. The music has changed since I first heard it, it will change again in the future and who knows what it will sound like? Students will come and go and the notes, moods and melodies will change with them.

If you stop and listen to Avondale College you can hear the music around you.

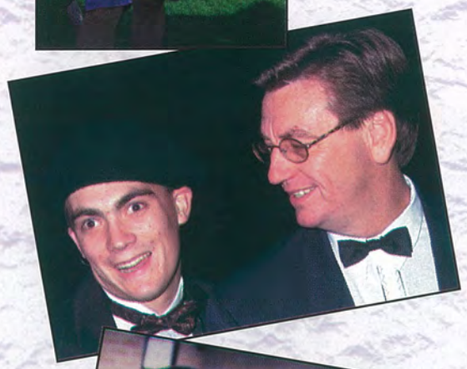
Bruce Cantrill



Bruce is currently on exchange to Newbold College in England. In these pages we show the honour and respect students have for him.

Avondale - What a place! Church, Chapel, Assemblies, Talent Nights, a Harbour Cruise, Barn Nights, Beach BBQ's, Open Dorms, Video Nights, and of course meal time in the Cafeteria, these are all the things that make Avondale alive and fun. But you the students are what it is all about. Without you it's nothing. You're all wonderful. Thanks for the good and bad times and the memories, lots of them.

Bruce Cantrill

When people reminisce about College life, Bruce Cantrill is always a stand out phenomenon.

Bruce fancied himself as a bit of a guru at times, sharing many words of wisdom and giving advice to anyone on a variety of topics. Bruce's sense of humour and personality are unique, particularly his student centred approach. Bruce constantly brought humour, enthusiasm, and action to the cafeteria, and thus College, and it was this package that helped create many great memories for College students past and present.

Bruce was and is a legend, he was the admiral and the cafeteria was his ship. Bruce has done a lot for College and has easily earned the title, "Mr Avondale". It is here that we salute Bruce Cantrill, Avondale's finest.

Memories and Reflection

1897 - 1997

In Memory of...

Enid Tinworth

Enid proved to be much more than a secretary - she won her way into students' hearts. I appreciated the expertise she developed in handling people and the skills she brought to the DOSS office.

Alex Currie

Enid organised the DOSS office to enhance student life, however she will be remembered not just as an excellent secretary but as a confident guide and friend to thousands of people who came to Avondale.

Rob Dixon

During her years in the DOSS Office, Enid influenced thousands of students as well as College staff members. She made a difference to their days. Her ready smile and caring spirit became personal 'trademarks' she stamped on all of us who had the privilege of knowing her.

Trafford Fischer

I remember the sparkle in Enid's eye when she sensed a good joke coming on. In fact she had this cute little habit of anticipating the punch line in a funny story, and jumping in with her suggestion of what the punch line ought to be. The great thing is that she knew about the only punch line that really counts - "I know that my Redeemer lives... and because He lives, I too shall live."

Lyell Heise

During my term as Public Relations & Marketing Director for Avondale, I was privileged to have had Enid as my secretary. There is always opportunity for loyalty, trust and growth in a professional work relationship and working with Enid was a rewarding experience. Her support encouragement, enthusiasm and dedication endeared her to us all.

John Banks

A 'mother' to so many Avondale students. Always ready to listen and help. Avondale was so much a part of your life. We are poorer for your passing.

Jacaranda Banquet '96

We Finally Made It!

A night which was full of laughs, filling up with food and a visual feast of Jacarandas.

Getting Too Cosy?

Good Friends

Giving . . .

Everyday is a reason for giving, and giving is the key to living.

So let us give ourselves away, not just today but every day.

And remember, a kind and thoughtful deed or hand outstretched in a time of need is the rarest of gifts, for it is a part not of the purse but a loving heart,

And they who give of themselves will find true joy of heart and peace of mind.

HOE - Help Others Eat

Jenny Wells and Beverly Bishop volunteering their time helping in the vegetable garden that provides fresh food to the less fortunate.

ADRA
The People People!

Adventist Development & Relief Agency in partnership with Avondale College worked together with the people of Toong Sai Village, Thailand to provide safe, clean water.

Water Is Life!

You can be a partner in our 1998 development program. Please contact the College.

ADRA & Avondale - making a difference!

Student Groups

ASFA - Avondale Student Faculty Association

Rebecca Southon, Davina Weddell, Shane Roberts, Marty Hanconk, Ledua Lotawa.

Paul House, Danny Brooks, Derek McCutcheon, Charmaine Jull, Jenny Wareham.

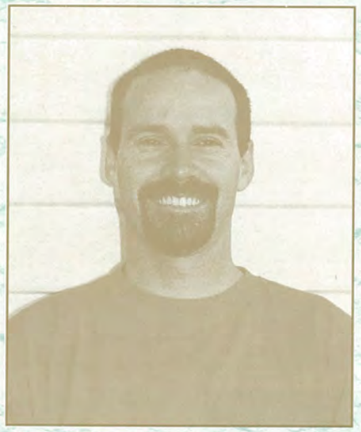
In what has been a generally quiet year, ASFA continued to voice student concerns, and provide leadership in all facets of college life. SAC, under the guiding hand of Jenny Wareham helped immensely with the social life of college.

Campus Ministries which had a record number of leaders this year were able to provide spiritual emphasis around the college.

Other clubs such as the Much Ado newspaper, ABARC, the International club, and all the different sporting clubs etc. also contributed in a big way to make 1997, our Centenary year, one that will be remembered.

Derek McCutcheon.

Day Students Representative



Shane Roberts.

ANSA - Avondale Nurses Student Association

Hayley Potts, Rohan Charlton, Tim Shelton, Dwight V. B., Michael Robertson, Michale Steed.

Graduation 1996

Three of a Kind

Fleeting images of two lovely Jacaranda trees run through everyone's memories of Avondale. They stand in front of the Chapel, and have come to be almost a symbol of graduation; for when their purple blossoms begin to float down and carpet the lawns and the path, we know that the college year is almost over.

Congratulations

College was like a second home, only bigger. More people to love, and some to love you. More places to be relaxed, and more to avoid. More things they let you do, and more things you do anyway. It was just like home, except there were more people!

Thank you to...

Our Mums & Dads for life

Lynette Carlsen
for information and photos on the esteemed Dr Norm Carlsen

Rose-lee Power
for allowing and trusting the Jac team with Heritage Room photographs

Richard Morris and Andy Collis
for their support and understanding concerning time required for Sharon Dunstall to complete this publication

All who sacrificed their personal photo's apologies to Leanne Walker

Those who volunteered (under duress-) intellectual, profound and general statements

Ian McEwan and his team
for all their help in printing this marvellous publication

Ray Roennfeldt, Andy Collis, Daniel Reynaud, Ron Craig and Clinton Max
for their assistance and advice.

Ann Stafford and Narell Hick
for their help with the book and the processing of sales forms.

Letitia Kingdon
for entertainment and moral support

Belinda Clark
for sanity, midnight snacks, entertainment, distraction, keeping the seat warm, being there, photography assistance, constructive criticism and advice
